The DPD (days past due) details display the payment history profile for the applicant for the last 36 months, with the exact no. of days the account was past due (if any)

The data is displayed on a year & month basis for whatever is available in the database.

Sometimes instead of DPD payment history profile codes are submitted by credit landing institution . In such case the same will be displayed instead of DPD. They are:

“S” Standard: An account which is overdue for less than 90 days is considered as a Standard asset as per RBI guidelines

“M” Special Mention: These accounts are “Standard” assets but for some discrepancy the lending organisation would like to monitor this account closely

“N” Experian Credit Information Company has not received any credit / loan account information prior to that specific month. This may be at the start of the credit / loan agreement

“B” Substandard: An account which is overdue by 90 days for a period of less than or equal to 12 months is classified as a Substandard asset as per RBI guidelines

“D” Doubtful: An account which is overdue by 90 days for more than 12 months is classified as Doubtful asset as per RBI guidelines

“L” Loss: An account where loss has been identified but the amount has not been written off, wholly or partially is classified as Loss asset as per RBI guidelines

“?” The credit institution has not been able to provide the credit / loan account information for that specific month
